An Anomaly of Twins Enrolled at Poff

The three first-grade teachers at Poff Elementary – Courtenay Garrett, Deniene Gillis, and Claire Leventis – have something more in common this school year besides their shared dedication to their students. Each of them has at least one set of twins in their class, and for Mrs. Leventis it’s double the fun since she has two, sister sets Abigail and Hannah Braden and Eden and Emily Sullivan. One more pair of sisters, Callie and Haley Carlin, can be found in Mrs. Garrett’s room. The Perry twins in Mrs. Gillis’ class, Kamden and Harper, are brother and sister. The eight youngsters gathered in Poff’s library recently for a lively discussion on twin life, where they acknowledged that having so many pairs in one grade is, as Eden Sullivan said, “pretty cool.”

Hampton Grad Leaves Mark on Hearts & Lives of Future Generations of Talbots
by Mary-Theresa Watson

“A smile can open a heart faster than a key can open a door.”
“Senior Salute” quote: Kate Pohl Dopirak, HHS ’94

In recognizing children’s author Kate Pohl Dopirak with the Hampton Class of 2020’s Distinguished Alumni award, the selection committee chose someone who would inspire rising graduates and illustrate the success borne of a Hampton education. What committee members could not have known when they met last March, however, was just how fitting this year’s honoree, known for her radiant smile and positive attitude, would turn out to be in the months to come.

Comprised of teachers who are Hampton graduates along with the Principal and seniors on Student Council, the group annually reviews nominees submitted by community members. Every year since 1999, one Hampton alumnus has been honored during the high school commencement ceremony, shining a spotlight on someone who once walked the hallways of Hampton before going on to great success.

After graduating from Hampton in 1994, Kate went on to earn degrees in English and Education, eventually returning to the district as an elementary school teacher who instructed with warmth, enthusiasm, and unabashed joy. Kate never gave up on her dreams of writing, particularly after becoming a mom to sons Joey and Bobby whose youthful “antics,” she said in 2012, provided an endless supply of story ideas. Her Hampton-grown grit and positivity strengthened her resolve to succeed, and Kate eventually realized her dream, publishing four children’s books and numerous essays.

Though Kate tragically passed away two years ago, her siblings, Joe Pohl (HHS ’91) and Molly Krober (HHS ’97), were honored on her behalf during the Class of 2020’s virtual ceremony in June. A few months later, Kate’s family was invited to the high school where they were presented with an engraved plaque during a small, informal gathering.

“Katie would be humbled and excited by this honor,” Joe remarked. “She loved the Hampton School District and community, and she chose to become a teacher and writer in part due to the influence of many wonderful teachers at Hampton. Watching Katie with her students was like watching a great conductor with a world-class orchestra—she engaged and led them, and they responded with their best.” Echoing her brother’s sentiments, Molly also noted how touched the family is that members of the senior class selected Kate despite never knowing her personally.

When the family stepped into the high school last month and saw Kate’s name had been added to the Distinguished Alumni plaque, Molly noticed a few familiar names. “Two of the names belong to close friends of Katie’s,” she pointed out, “and one thing they all have in common is that they followed their passion. If you find something you truly love, just do it. Katie loved everything about books, and remembering that while coming together at the high school was a reminder of our early days, which is so helpful and healing for our family.”

The light that always emanated from Kate continues to touch the Hampton community, as friends remember a woman who never gave up on her dreams. Gina Hussar fondly describes her lifelong friend as someone who “lived her life with a very rare kind of grace, kindness, and authenticity, and of course a smile that lit up any room! She exemplified what’s truly possible when you find your purpose.”

Kate’s last book, Hurry Up! A Book About Slowing Down, was released posthumously last May. The story of a child navigating a busy world, the rhyming picture book reminds readers to be present and mindful so they can appreciate each moment and enjoy the simple things in life. Today, perhaps more than ever in recent memory, that message resonates equally for children and adults alike.

In hindsight, it seems almost providential that 2020’s Distinguished Alumni honoree embodies invaluable qualities for navigating what has arguably become one of the most challenging times of the young graduates’ lives. To today’s young people who have found their world, their expectations, and their norms shifting in unimaginable ways, Kate’s legacy—one of positivity, kindness, determination, and a call to enjoy life’s simple pleasures—shines as a beacon toward a future of unlimited possibilities.

Liebro Singer-Songwriter Contest Winner

by Deb Brady

Hampton High School junior Lindsay Liebro has been writing songs since she was in second grade. That’s when, she says with a wink, “I wrote the very creatively titled, My Song.”

Over the last ten years Lindsay’s songwriting talents clearly have grown! She was named the winner of the 2020 Singer-Songwriter Competition on WYEP, despite being the contest’s youngest entrant.

Lindsay points to singer-songwriter Taylor Swift as her biggest musical influence. “[Swift] is such a powerful musician who has paved the way for women in the music industry. Her songwriting is otherworldly. She really takes listeners through a story with her songs. She’s someone I admire not just because of her prodigious ability to create music but also because of her determination and kindness,” Lindsay says.

A self-taught guitarist, Lindsay has more than 100 songs under her belt, but could only choose one for her initial contest entry. She ultimately chose “Et tu, Brute?,” a song about being betrayed by someone you trusted. She says, “I definitely took inspiration from Shakespeare’s Julius Caesar on that one. "Et tu, Brute?" was just that iconic line that always kept coming back to me, and I think it’s something that a lot of people can relate to. Except hopefully, they have a better fate than Caesar in the end!”

Her entry for the finals, in which she competed against 15 other artists, was entitled “Mosaic.” This is a song, she says, about that fear people have of being burdensome to someone. Continues Lindsay, “Too often people are afraid that if we tell others about our problems they’ll run away, but we always hope that they’ll stay and accept us for all our imperfections. I’ve always really loved the imagery of mosaics because they are these incredible works of art made out of broken pieces. They’re proof that you can still be worthy even if you have flaws.”

Lindsay, who is very active in Hampton’s drama department, was at play rehearsal when she heard that she and “Mosaic” placed first. “One of my castmates broke the news to me! I was in complete shock. It felt so surreal, and the outpouring of support I got meant the entire world to me. I’m really proud to have won since I was the youngest in the running. In a world where only 12.5% of women are songwriters, it feels so fulfilling to beat the odds and to have your talent recognized before your age or gender.”

Lindsay hopes to pursue songwriting professionally, saying that being a singer-songwriter has long been a dream of hers. She’s excited about what the future holds. In the meantime, she continues to write and is getting ready for her role as student vocal director for the 2021 HHS musical.

A Talented Doodler

Google proudly presented thirteen year old Cassie Seebacher, an 8th grade student at Hampton Middle School, with prizes and an award for the Doodle for Google contest. Cassie was chosen to represent Pennsylvania in the contest themed “I show Kindness by...”. She doodled children of all ethnicities surrounding a tree and helping each other to hang a Google banner. Although Cassie was not chosen as one of the five national finalist, she was thrilled to have won in the state of Pennsylvania!

Best Buddies Race for Championship

Abby Molinaro, 2020 Hampton graduate was nominated to be a 2020 Champion for Best Buddies. Guidelines for this national non-profit organization require that “Buddy Pairs” must have a “one-to-one” activity at least two times a month, have in-person contact or communication via phone, text or email at least once per week, participate in a group activity at least four times a year, and be matched with a buddy for at least a whole year.

Abby set a goal to raise $3000 in 10 weeks. As of printing this article, she already raised over $4,200 and 100% of the money raised goes to Best Buddies. To follow Abby’s progress, visit www.bestbuddieschampion.org.

Abby teamed up with Chef Justin Severino of Morcilla restaurant in Lawrenceville to create meal kits for her campaign to raise money. Abby said, “Thank you for supporting me in my efforts to raise money for Best Buddies. Through Best Buddies, thousands of people with disabilities have successfully moved from segregation and desolation to a new acceptance in their family and community. In turn, Best Buddies has created a new spirit of public service for thousands of middle school, high school and college volunteers that will last a lifetime.”

Drama Club Returns with Mysterious Comedy

by Mary-Theresa Watson

The long-held theatrical tradition of “the show must go on” has taken some hits this year. Today, however, the Hampton High School drama club is hitting back as the group continues work on its fall production of the farcical whodunnit, Clue: On Stage. Nine months after the heartbreaking cancellation of their spring musical, the performing arts students and faculty are back doing what they love most, albeit in a way no one could have predicted a year ago.

Refusing to allow the student-run production to become yet another casualty of Covid-19, Directors Zoey Case and Sydney Meyers, both seniors, are working closely with faculty advisor, Dan Franklin, to creatively support their beloved theatre program. While the Drama Club runs independently from the musical, many of the students participate in both, making this production doubly meaningful. For the first time, auditions were handled virtually, with students submitting recordings for consideration.

Because social distancing guidelines prohibit the group from staging the production in a crowded auditorium, individual performances are being filmed and edited into a final show. Once the show is ready for viewing, patrons may purchase access to a link in order to watch the recorded performance. The directors are working closely with Mr. Franklin and Tech Advisor Lucky Monroe to adapt the show as needed. While it will look vastly different from the club’s previous productions, it’s sure to be an enjoyable escape for all who tune in.

Be sure to check the school website www.ht-sd.org for virtual show dates.

Hampton’s Aguiar Excels in the Marine Corps!

Unlike a lot of young men from his generation, Trent Aguiar had a vision for his future even before graduating from high school and enlisted in the United States Marine Corp the summer before his senior year. After excelling in baseball, where he captained an impressive team loaded with four D1 recruits, Trent dove headlong into training for the USMC’s Parris Island, South Carolina boot-camp. Trent tackled this recruit training regimen, described as “Hell on Earth,” during the three hottest months of the year!

Trent’s work ethic and physical abilities were on full display as he conquered challenge after challenge while tearing up the world’s most demanding combat initiation program. His efforts and perseverance allowed him to graduate 3rd in a class of 601 recruits in mid-October of that year. As all Marines are riflemen first, Trent then had to attend ITB (Infantry Training Battalion) school at Ft. Geiger, North Carolina followed by BSG (Basic Security Guard) training in Chesapeake, Virginia where he graduated and was promoted to PFC (Private First Class) in January 2019.

Trent’s first official post had him shipped off to Washington State’s U.S. Naval Base Kitsap, where he’s been stationed since February of 2019. Trent’s positive, yet tenacious attitude saw him quickly promoted to Lance Corporal the following September. Time and again the young leader was chosen by his NCOs (non-commissioned officers) to mentor younger Privates and PFCs through both the physical and psychological demands that come with being a Marine stationed far from home. Taking notice of Trent’s efforts in going out of his way to assist struggling young Marines, Trent was chosen as “team-leader” last November, overseeing a five man security team charged with guarding our nation’s nuclear arsenal. Impressed by his organizational skills, Trent’s superiors quickly increased his responsibilities by assigning him three, five man squads with each consisting of a team leader, driver, machine gunner and two riflemen. These leadership assignments led to Lance Corporal Aguiar being promoted to Corporal in September of 2020, the fastest any Kitsap Aguiar being promoted to Corporal.

In addition to the above accomplishments Trent was awarded “Marine of the Quarter” three different times, he was selected to attend MAI (Martial Arts Instructor) school, FFI (Force Fitness Instructor) school and also chosen to attend an abbreviated Scout Sniper Course. Trent was later named to represent the Kitsap Marines in the MURPH course challenge. The competition is a workout created to honor Lt. Michael “Murph” Murphy (see the movie Lone Survivor) a navy SEAL who died in Afghanistan on June 28th, 2005. Trent would have competed against other top military personnel in the challenge consisting of a one-mile run, 100 pullups, 200 pushups, 300 squats, and another one-mile run, while wearing a 20 pound vest. Unfortunately, many of these opportunities didn’t come to fruition due to COVID related travel restrictions.

Trent’s two-year stint in the Corps has seen him pick up several weapons qualifications and licenses to operate various military vehicles and he’s also been certified as a combat life-saver and suicide prevention officer. He has set a handful of Kitsap Base physical fitness records and regularly scores perfectly on the Corps Combat and Physical Fitness tests. Upon completion of his five-year Marine contract, Trent plans to continue to protect and serve by becoming a Pennsylvania State Trooper.

Hampton Veterans Memorial Court

In 2008, the war monuments were moved from Mt. Royal Boulevard to a new Veterans Memorial Court located at the Hampton Community Center so they could be placed in a prominent area of the township, allowing members of the community constant exposure and more accessible for public observances to honor our veterans.

The Hampton Community Association and the Township express their extreme pride in all those veterans who, at one time or another, have called Hampton their home. The HCA continues to fund raise for future phases of the memorial through the sale of brick pavers and donations. Your support is greatly appreciated. For more information, visit www.hampton-pa.org.

The Hampton Gibsonia Connection

by Jonathan Klemens

The early history of Gibsonia and Hampton Township is interwoven with the history of the Gibson family. Prior to the arrival of the Gibson family, the original name of the village was actually “Gondacker,” after the current owner of the land. The name was changed to Gibsonia in honor of the Gibson family and their contributions to the area.

The Gibson family homestead was built by Charles Gibson, Jr., in 1839. The original wood Gibson house was demolished in December 2019, but near the Gibsonia railroad crossing, there still remains the foundation of Charles Gibson’s general store. The building also housed the first post office in Gibsonia. The Gibsonia post office also serves many parts of Hampton Township. Unfortunately, the building was destroyed by fire in 1908. Prior to the fire, the structure was used as a mission of the Christian & Missionary Alliance Church. There was always a close association between Hampton and the Gibsonia area.

THE BIRTH OF HAMPTON TOWNSHIP

Judge Moses Hampton, of English descent, was born in Beaver County in 1803. He moved with his parents to Trumbull County, Ohio. He pursued classical studies and graduated from Washington College (now Washington and Jefferson College) in Washington, Pennsylvania, in 1827. He studied law in Uniontown, was admitted to the bar in 1829, and commenced practice in Somerset. He moved to Pittsburgh in 1838 and continued the practice of law.

He was elected to Congress in 1846 and served as president judge of the Allegheny County District Court from 1853 to 1873. In 1861, he signed the necessary document to form the Hampton municipality comprising parts of McCandless, Indiana, and West Deer townships. Consequently, Hampton Township was created and named in his honor. The township totaled approximately ten thousand three hundred and twenty-three (10,323) acres.

Also, about this time, Charles Gibson, Jr., built the first steam flour mill west of the Alleghenies, on Grubbs Road. His granddaughter, Nancy Gibson James, recalls hearing her uncle tell how the local farmers rode to the mill with sacks of grain across their saddles.

POST CIVIL WAR GROWTH

The Civil War did not impact Hampton directly; however, many patriotic residents enlisted to defeat the Confederacy. Pittsburgh became a very important city, quickly developing a reputation as an industrial and manufacturing center for wartime artillery and leather goods. In the summer of 1863, as the Gettysburg Campaign intensified, Pittsburgh and surrounding areas feared a ravaging attack by Confederate troops. As a defense, thirty-seven redoubts and trenches were built around the greater Pittsburgh area.

The “Iron Horse” came to Hampton in 1877 as the Pittsburgh, Newcastle and Lake Erie Railroad arrived in Pittsburgh and surrounding areas. The railroad greatly facilitated passenger and freight transportation, spurring the growth of Hampton Township and bringing the demise of the canal boat and the Conestoga wagon.

The oil boom between 1888 and early 1900s introduced the drilling industry to Hampton and was chiefly responsible for the founding of the town of Sample. Wooden derricks sprang up throughout the township. Only moderate oil was found; however, natural gas was abundant. While most drilling was centered in the vicinity of Wildwood and Sample Roads, there was a derrick along Duncan Avenue. The drilling for oil and gas brought employment and business opportunities to our area. Hampton was prospering.
The DLM Weathers a Tough Season

To borrow the title of a popular oldie tune, “Looks Like We Made It,” the DLM survived a daunting COVID-pandemic shortened season. Most events and classes were cancelled due to PA health policies and consideration for the well-being of our many visitors. However, with help of our dedicated and energetic volunteers, we were able to offer special “Sundry Sundays”, following health guidelines. Starting on August 16, each weekend featured a unique colonial demonstration. Thankfully, we were blessed with many new enthusiastic volunteers this season. Don’t be shy; if you are interested in volunteering, contact us.

The Museum was also able to sell-out the ever-popular Family Lantern Tours on Oct 17 and 24. This season we pre-sold tickets and offered safer self-guided tours through the lantern-lit village. We ended the season on Oct 25 with “Going Out with a Bang”. Visitors were given the exciting opportunity to fire several 18th-century firearms!

You are welcome to step back into 1792 and experience the sights, sounds, and aromas of early Hampton Township. Costumed 18th century interpreters bring to life our settlers’ world in the village of Tally Cavey snuggled on the edge of Route 8, at 4743 S. Pioneer Rd, Allison Park, PA 15101, (Phone: 412-486-0563). In the 2021 season, plan an educational and fun trip to the Museum. We hope to see you!

Meals On Wheels Can Use Your Help

The Meals on Wheels program of the Northern Area Multi-Service Center (NAMS) delivers both meals and wellness to area senior citizens. Meals on Wheels drivers deliver meals to seniors on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and along with bringing much needed nutrition, it provides an opportunity to check on the health and welfare of the participants. NAMS drivers provide an essential service to area seniors and more drivers are needed! “It’s the most rewarding job I’ve ever had. I enjoy seeing their face light up when I come to deliver their meal,” said a current Meals on Wheels driver. Drivers and their seniors share smiles and conversation and come to feel like one another’s family. Many times, the driver is the only person with whom a senior interacts and it’s the highlight of their day.

Meals on Wheels drivers also participate in a program where they are able to make note of any changes they see in their senior’s health, appearance and even living conditions. These changes are passed along to family, case managers or medical personnel as needed. The drivers truly make a difference in their seniors’ lives.

Northern Area Multi-Service Center (NAMS) currently operates a Meals on Wheels program serving over 400 seniors in areas stretching from Tarentum to McKees Rocks, Sewickley, North Shore and the North Hills including Hampton and Gibsonia. In recent months, we have had an influx of seniors in need due to COVID-19. Although the need for Meals on Wheels has continued to grow, our workforce of drivers and volunteers has not. We are currently seeking employees and volunteers to deliver meals to seniors. To find out more about joining the Meals on Wheels team please call Silvana at (412) 781-1175 x4499.
Shaler Hampton EMS Update

by Eric Schmidt, EMT-P, CMTE
Executive Director

With more than 500 COVID-positive patients in our service area, including more than 200 in Hampton, what is our largest concern due to COVID-19? It is that someone who really needs our help won’t call when they need our help - because they’re concerned about going to the hospital! Unfortunately, we know that this has occurred and in at least one case with a devastating outcome. The medical community has learned so much since March, and at Shaler Hampton EMS our staff has risen to the challenge every day since the pandemic started. We worked cooperatively with other regional ambulance services to develop protocols to protect our patients and staff, and they have worked well. Our staff wear regular masks while in the station and in the ambulance, even when patients are not present. During patient care we wear N95 masks or respirator masks and gloves and goggles on every call, as a minimum. Through these steps we have maintained the health and safety of our staff while assuring that we have been and will be ready to respond. We also cooperatively applied for and received a $100,000 federal grant for personal protective equipment (PPE) for our staff, jointly with Ross/West View and McCandless Franklin Park EMS.

In other news a team of our staff completed a comprehensive design process for 2 new ambulances that will arrive this coming Spring, replacing 2 9-year-old ambulances. Designed for safety for our patients and our crews, these 2 LifeLine ambulances are designed so that the patient compartment can be removed and placed on a new chassis every 7 years, significantly reducing replacement costs while maintaining quality. Our 2 newest ambulances just returned from LiquidSpring, a very unique company that installed a new suspension system on both units. This provides a much smoother ride for our patients and allows for ongoing medical care during transport. Both new ambulances will also feature the LiquidSpring system. Visit www.shalerhamptonems.org for updated information.

Kurt Vonnegut once said, “Enjoy the little things in life because one day you’ll look back and realize they were the big things.”

I’m sure all of us feel like we’ve been dealing with the BIG THINGS during this most unusual year. Take a moment and reflect on the many little things to enjoy: the magic in the first snowfall, seeing your breath in the crisp, cold air, watching candles flicker on a dark night and getting lost in a good book. Things like this give us hope and can still surprise us with a sense of wonder. These are the things to hold onto this year! For the library, the little things were seeing our friends, young and old, who were so happy to have us back open in the summer. It was meeting new friends, who had discovered our electronic books, audio, and movies during the shutdown months and hearing the pleasant chatter of adults and children discovering new books!

As the director of the Hampton Community Library, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to all our friends that supported the library through such a difficult time. Whether, it was just calling to see how we (the staff) were doing or stopping in to say hello, we appreciated your care and concern. We are also forever grateful for your generosity during our Annual Appeal Campaign in September’s Love Your Library Month. Thank you for allowing the Hampton Community Library to serve you during these unpredictable times and for your patience as we learned new protocols to be able to safely serve you.

It is truly in the little things...

I sincerely hope that we all can find the time to stop and enjoy the “little moments of magic” this season. The staff and myself wish all a happy, healthy holiday season and a peaceful, joyful 2021.

Sincerely, Suzanna Krispli, Director

New Solutions to Old Challenges

The Hampton Police Department is proud to welcome two new team members, Angela Kenbok and Kaylee Kihn. Ms. Kenbok has over six years of experience in social work, between working at Gateway Rehabilitation and volunteering at Greenbriar Outpatient Center, which will be coupled with Ms. Kihn’s educational background and work experience in the mental health field to make a winning combination for the Hampton community.

Ms. Kenbok and Ms. Kihn were introduced to the department through Dr. Brittany Nwachuku, Assistant Professor of Social Work and Director of MSW Field Work at Slippery Rock University, and Dr. Yvonne Eaton-Stull, Associate Professor of Social Work and BSSW Program Coordinator at SRU. As Dr. Nwachuku prepared to align the duo enrolled in the Masters of Social Work program with a field placement, she reached out to her colleague, Dr. Eaton-Stull, to go over some possibilities. Dr. Eaton-Stull immediately thought they should approach Hampton’s Chief of Police, Tom Vulakovich. “HTPD officers have been guest speakers in the undergraduate social work classes at SRU, and due to the progressive nature of HTPD’s leadership, we thought it would be a great fit,” stated Dr. Eaton-Stull. The partnership came to fruition when Chief Vulakovich welcomed the opportunity to utilize social work interns in a police department setting.

Over the next several months, Ms. Kenbok and Ms. Kihn will use their educational experience and knowledge to de-escalate crisis situations related to mental health, substance abuse, and inter-personal violence in our area. They will also follow up with the cases that are relevant to their area of expertise. When they are not on calls with the police, the women will work behind the scenes to develop appropriate training programs and provide resources and referrals to individuals who are in need. Ms. Kenbok commented, “Working hand-in-hand with law enforcement, specifically here with the Hampton PD, is an amazing opportunity to show society how social workers can collaborate with law enforcement. These two entities working together can effect a huge change when it comes to mental health and substance abuse. I’m hoping this opens the door to opportunities at surrounding police departments.” Ms. Kihn said, “Since day one with the Hampton Police Department, I have felt welcomed. I am excited to share my knowledge of social work and mental health with the department while learning more about law enforcement. I believe police and social workers make a great team and can give insight about different situations to each other. I am eager to build a rapport with the Hampton community and provide social service referrals and resources to those in need while working alongside the police.”

Chief of Police Tom Vulakovich sees the program as a “great opportunity for Hampton residents as well as the police department.” He continued, “When a domestic violence call or an overdose type of call comes into the station, our officers react and are trained to handle them appropriately. We can also refer the victims to a crisis center or agency. However, we are not able to follow up with each call and see that the appropriate help is, in fact, being sought. Our partnership with SRU’s program is designed to allow for that critical follow-up and provide a much-needed personal social service for the victim and/or their family.”
Rotary Club Serves Families in Need

COVID-19 stopped many things this year including Hampton Rotary’s main fundraiser, the Firecracker 5K, but it has not stopped them from following their motto, “service above self” and helping folks in Hampton and the surrounding communities. The club is in its 35th year and has built bridges on the Irma Kost and the Rachel Carson Trail, built the fishing pier in the Township Park Pond and delivers Meals on Wheels every week thanks to Cindy Ryland’s weekly coordination. Members Herb Ferguson, Carole Galletta, Lou D’Angelo, Dana Pietrzak, Chris Lochner, Jack Richardson, Bob Rylands, John Readal, John O’Data, Bill Leja, Dick Sittler, Geff Young, John Chomko, Bill McWilliams, Ted Martin, Ron Barnes and Steve Goodman enjoy the smiles from the recipients of a warm meal when they step away from work to volunteer and deliver.

This year club members helped prepare the beds for North Hills Community Outreach garden to provide fresh produce to needy families. Past President Shawn Wright lead the club to donating to Emanuel Lutheran Church for families in Millvale and $2,500 for needy student families by providing Aldi gift cards. Hampton Rotary continues to provide Hampton High School student scholarships totaling $7,500 this past year and $2,500 to Beattie Tech students for post high school education courses.

Rotary meets at noon every Thursday, typically at Wildwood Golf Club. This summer they enjoyed Denny Schlegel’s Pasquale’s Pizza and subs each week for their meetings in the community park at the Rotary Pavilion. While at the pavilion they decided to undertake rehabbing it by power washing and painting with the guidance of Steve Cupcheck and Dave Hengelsberg. Ron Schmidt, Bill Shipley, Les Diekmann, Roger Eichner, Bob Leuenberger and Keith Davis never saw so many staples on the underside of picnic tables in the pavilions from years of picnic parties! Current Hampton Rotary President, Hal English, has continued the enthusiasm and commitment of the club to help during these difficult times as the Hampton Rotary is providing $10,000 to purchase food for the neediest school district student families. English said, “We are blessed to have school board members Larry Vasko and Greg Stein along with Superintendent Michael Loughead and Assistant Superintendent Rebecca Cunningham as members of our club to help guide this undertaking.” This fall and winter the club will shop and deliver durable food goods to needy student families. Public donations can be added to the Hampton Rotary Food Drive $10,000 commitment by way of check or grocery gift cards that can be sent to Rotary Club of Hampton Township, P.O. Box 685, Allison Park, PA 15101.

Fall Sports Recap

by Garrett Gess, HHS Student Writer

Football
The Hampton Football Program saw its best season since 2014! Hampton had a 5-2 record, ranked among the Top 8 teams in 4A WPIAL Football, and qualified for the playoffs. The Talbots also excelled in their rushing attack and combined for over 1,500 yards on 265 carries. Their rushing success was in part due to the upfront support from seniors Ryan Mankevich, Dawson Dietz, and the rest of the offensive line. Although this was the final season for many seniors, Hampton still has a long list of returning sophomores and juniors to build more momentum going into next season.

Band
Hampton is always able to boast large band enrollments each year which leads to a great production, especially during football games. This year, the HHS Marching Band presented its 2020 Field Show: “Music From Queen” which featured many classics from the rock band Queen. It was truly a culmination of all the hard work and time that Hampton Band put together from the early-morning practices in the hot summer to the Friday nights in the cold fall season. There is surely an appreciation for the 100+ students, staff, and board members that did their very best to maximize the Band experience in this unprecedented time.

Seniors

Golf

There was plenty of Hampton success on the links. The collective team went 10-4 in their matches. Seniors Matthew Ruzomberka and Robert Leppert finished #9 and #10 at the Section 8 AAA Qualifiers. Also, senior Arianna Erka had a great season and had a 10th-place finish in the entire AAA WPIAL Finals at Oakmont Country Club. She continued to be a very talented golfer and was also the only one to birdie a 271-yard par 4 at hole No. 6 during the Finals.

Seniors Right: Ethan Apaliski, Brock Mattiuz, Matthew Ruzomberka, Robert Leppert, Ryan Beranek, Arianna Erka

Tennis

The team seemed to have to start from scratch to open the season. Although with the same leadership with Grant McKinney in his 14th season as head coach, the makeup of Hampton’s 19-player roster included 13 girls who were new to the program, with 11 freshmen. The underclassmen needed to step up to fill open positions. Although Hampton may not have had a winning season, there were more positives than negatives. They still have a lot of young players to help build for years to come.

Cheer

Hampton Cheer has had a wonderful fall season. They have been perfecting their routines all the way back since summer conditioning in July and have been there to support the Mighty Talbots. Although many safety precautions were put in place, it didn’t stop the Cheer team from performing their wonderful routines and creative chants while on the sidelines. They never failed to give a boost to the Hampton school spirit and motivate the many fans in attendance.

Seniors right: Alyssa Nyilas, Captain Katie Hallie, Captain Grace Claus, Saige Loebig, Raelyn Fec and Gracie Nelson.

Cross Country

The boys and girls have reaped great benefits for the hours of training and long runs as a group. Both teams had a great season. The boys finished 11th out of 30 teams in the WPIAL finals. Michael Belch and Nathan Garrett led the Hampton pack, both with a time of 17:50 in the finals. The girls finished 26th out of 30 teams in the WPIALs, but had to compete with much bigger schools in 3A, while the boys competed in 2A. The girls’ team still had many personal records across the board and saw no shortage of continued improvement.

Soccer
As usual, the Hampton boys and girls soccer teams have both had a wonderful season. For the boys, they had an 11-5-1 record for the season and made it all the way to the WPIAL 3A Quarterfinals where they lost to #1-seed Mars in a double-overtime heartbreaker. The girls had a memorable season as well by going 12-2 and finished as the Section 1 Champions. Captains Adrianna Rossetti, Emmy Chismer, and Sam Langer helped lead the senior class. Jillian Antol, Nicole Fortes, and Adrianna Rossetti did great as All-Section players. Meanwhile, Junior Ava France and Freshman Madison Hurst took home both All-WPIAL and All-Section Honors this year.

Volleyball
Girls Volleyball for Hampton has experienced a terrific season. Hampton brought in a new head coach this year in Annie Bozzo and competed in a new section as well. They started off 10-0, but lost a couple of tough matchups down the stretch and finished 11-3. Despite that, the Lady Talbots were still able to be in a four-way tie for the Section 5-3A Championship. Once again, they made the playoffs but lost a 3-2 match against South Fayette in the first round.

Running for our Troops

The 15th annual Operation Troop Appreciation Veterans Day 5K Race was held in the Hampton Community Park on Sunday, November 8th. Organizers say this was their biggest turnout since the race began. Over 200 runners and walkers participated as well as dozens of spectators and some very intrepid volunteers.

The annual event is one of the fund-raising activities held by Operation Troop Appreciation (OTA). With a 100% volunteer staff, OTA has provided care packages to more than 190,000 active duty troops since its inception in 2004. They have also recently begun to provide transition assistance as our Troops return through our Welcome Home program. Some of the event’s special amenities were provided by community members. Boy Scout Troop 195 helped set up the patriotic displays in the registration pavilion and along the course; the North Hampton Volunteer Fire Company provided the ladder truck from which a huge American Flag was displayed to start the race. Local Fire Police helped with traffic control and the Hampton Township Police Department was on hand to help direct the runners. Motivation along the toughest part of the course was provided by the Hampton High School Pep Band and a lively atmosphere was provided by local disc jockey Rick Wirth. Hampton band director Chad Himmler proudly said, “I am glad the students had an opportunity to play a small role in helping this organization send care packages to our active-duty troops!”

The event accommodated both competitive runners and casual walkers. The overall male winner was 16 year old Parker Steele from Oakmont with a time of 17:45. Overall female winner was 13 year old Kevyn Fish from Allison Park at 19:44. In the Masters category, Bob Teagarden (19:07) and Holly Peterman (23:16) were the winners. There was also a team competition featuring five member teams. Hampton High Schoolers Michael Belch, Aidan Sawyer, Jackson McGrath, Quentin Romero Lauro and Chris Belch won with an impressive score.

Race Director Alice McLaughlin said this year presented unusual challenges. “We had to modify many of our procedures to accommodate requirements relating to the coronavirus. We wanted to keep our runners, spectators and volunteers safe while still providing the fun and festive atmosphere for which we’ve become known.”

She said that some of these procedures were conducted so smoothly that the volunteers plan to continue them in the future. So runners found their race ‘packets’ available in self-serve kiosks before the race, they began the race in socially distanced parking spaces from which they joined the singing of the National Anthem. After the race they received their post-race meal as pre-packed ‘Uncle Sam’s TakeOut,’ then received their medals, trophies and prizes in a wide parking lot which afforded protection from close contact.

Despite the social distancing there was a great feeling of shared purpose and comradery. “We’re all here for our Troops,” said volunteer Theresa Goeller. McLaughlin says anyone who’d like to know more about Operation Troop Appreciation can visit their website: www.operationtroopappreciation.org.

Glass Recycling Program a Huge Success!

The Township would like to thank all those who participated in this year’s PA Resource Council – Township sponsored glass recycling programs. This year’s programs occurred in two five-day spans; one in June and one in October. This program was so successful that the Township is now looking into the possibility of a permanent glass recycling container to be located at the municipal complex. Look for more information regarding glass recycling on the Township’s website and Facebook pages.

Cardboard Recycling at Municipal Complex

Did you know that the Township provides a corrugated cardboard recycling dumpster for resident use that is located adjacent to the salt storage building at the municipal complex? Many residents in the past have taken advantage of this recycling opportunity; however, as of late, we have experienced several problems. Unfortunately, our CARDBOARD ONLY dumpster has been contaminated with other refuse (garbage) products, such as plastic wrap or bags, Styrofoam, planting pots, building material, etc. Please understand that for the Township to continue to effectively operate this program, we would like to remind those that you cannot dump garbage or other items that you think can be recycled with corrugated cardboard – cardboard recycling containers are for cardboard only. Should you need to recycle cardboard, please keep this in mind and only put cardboard in the cardboard recycling container.

2021 Township Budget

The proposed 2021 Township Budget was presented to Township Council on Wednesday evening, November 4th. This Budget calls for no increase in taxes and maintains the same level of services that Township residents have received in the past.

In conjunction with the Budget, there will be the third of four increases in the Township capital sewer fees to offset the construction of a $45 million sewer treatment plant. As you may recall, this new facility is needed since the original one was built in 1972 and is physically deteriorating. Furthermore, a new sewer plant it is also necessary as the PA Department of Environmental Protection increases rules and regulations regarding the discharge of sewer effluent into streams such as Pine Creek.

A formal presentation of the proposed Budget will be made at the December 9th meeting of Township Council, which will be held at the Community Center. Should you wish to review a copy of the proposed 2021 Budget, you can do so by visiting the Municipal Building or view it on the Township’s website at www.hampton-pa.org/2021Budget.

Environmental Services Employees Recognized

The Township would like to congratulate and recognize members of its Sewer Line Maintenance team and Sewer Treatment Plant who were recently honored for their work by the Western Pennsylvania Water Pollution Control Association. In particular we would like to recognize Michael Kraus, operator of the Township’s sewer treatment plant laboratory, who was presented with the 2020 Patrick J. Canavan Laboratory Excellence Award.

Vegetation Management Within Rights-of-Way

The Township is a beautiful rural community in which residents take pride in their properties. However, as you may notice while traveling throughout the township, overgrown trees and other vegetation located with a road right-of-way cause problems for vehicles to safely pass each other, especially school buses and larger vehicles. Maintaining trees and vegetation within the road’s right-of-way is the responsibility of the property owner.

Township Ordinance No. 749 (ordinance can be found on Township’s website) provides for the regulation of trees, shrubs and other plants within any street or street right-of-way, and/or any public easement. It is strongly recommended that each property owner trim/prune their trees back from the roadway, or remove any trees that may be a hazard to those traveling the roadways.

After November 1st is the best time to trim/prune oak trees while they are dormant!!!

Thank you for your cooperation regarding this matter.

Support Troop 195

It’s beginning to look a lot like Christmas! Once again, local Scout Troop 195 will be selling Christmas trees in the parking lot of Wagner’s Market at 4978 Middle Road in Hampton Township. Brendan Cambest, the troop’s Senior Patrol Leader is pictured getting a tree ready for a customer during last year’s sale. He said, “The community has been very supportive over these past years and there are usually many repeat customers. Thanks for the support.”

The scouts learn the value of hard work and responsibility. In addition, they are providing a service to the community. In addition, the family activity of selecting a Christmas tree builds both Christmas and scouting spirit! The proceeds help fund scouting programs such as summer camp and high adventure outings, as well as helping kids who can't afford camp.

The scouts will be selling Fraser Fir, Concolor Fir, Blue Spruce, and White Pine. The stand is now open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Sundays 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and weekdays 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The sale runs through December 20, 2020 or until there are no more trees left. Only cash or check is accepted.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

A firework display will kick off the arrival of Santa Claus at the Hampton Community Park at 7:00 PM on Thursday, December 3, 2020.

Residents of all ages are welcome and will have the opportunity to wave to Santa as the fire truck cruises him around the park.

A big THANKS to the five Hampton school parent-teacher organizations, the groups and individuals that donated items for our raffle baskets and who volunteered their time. A special thanks to the Hampton Township Fire and Police Departments for their race day neighborhood parades.
Without their support, the 28th annual HAEE event would not have been such a big success!
A Letter from the Superintendent: Talbot Tenacity

Dear Hampton Township Community,

As I write this letter, our schools have successfully reopened through our Learn at School & Learn at Home Hybrid and we are about to transition to a Modified Hybrid that will provide four days of in-person instruction. I am very hopeful that by the time you read these words, some of our schools will be filled with students smiling behind their masks five days a week, and that not long after, all five of our schools will be completely open for in-person learning.

Of course, there are factors that we cannot control related to the prevalence of COVID in our state and community, and so we may have had to amend our plans. Uncertainty is hard for us all. I know that this has been a stressful time for all of us – students, parents, teachers, staff, and administrators, including myself. What keeps me moving forward with enthusiasm and optimism is witnessing the many ways this District community has found to teach, learn, connect, and celebrate despite the challenges. I’d like to share just a few acts of Talbot Tenacity.

As you will read elsewhere in this issue, the Hampton Alliance for Educational Excellence 5K Run/Walk was a huge success. Turn out was huge, and our business community support was extraordinary. Our fire companies even sent a fire truck. It was a truly joyous event that raised more than $30,000 for educational innovation and scholarships in our District.

Everywhere I go I hear praise for our teachers, across all grades and schools and subjects. Whether learning is remote, in person, or hybrid, our teachers make connections with our students and find ways to tailor the learning experience to each of them.

Our students, with the support of their families, have met the challenges of learning remotely. Some families have chosen the District’s fully online option, Hampton Online Academy, to stay within our District while utilizing the learning option that works best for their households. I know that some of these families are making this choice to protect vulnerable family members, and I am deeply touched by that.

Students who are able to attend in-person have met the challenges of learning in school together while keeping social distance and wearing face coverings. At a School Board meeting this fall, our student representatives reported that many high school students embraced the Learn at Home experience as a way to prepare for the independent learning that college and the workforce will require. In other words, they are not only learning through a pandemic, they are learning from the pandemic.

Even when school was entirely online, our Hampton arts faculty and students were creating and sharing. Music, the performing arts, and the visual arts inspire us, invigorate us, and provide opportunities for both reflection and escape.

And can we talk for a minute about how well our athletic teams are doing this year? You make us cheer and you make us proud. I’ll never forget the excitement of our Senior Night football game when finally, more fans were in the stands again.

Working hard is nothing new to our buildings and grounds, food services, transportation, and nursing staffs. But keeping everyone safe and healthy at school has required a whole new level of creative problem solving and commitment.

What examples of Talbot Tenacity have you seen? Please share on our Facebook page!

Thank you for all that each of you do,
Michael R. Loughead, Ed.D.

Hampton Community Raises $30,000+ for Schools through Socially Distant HAEE 5K

New Board Members Are Needed

Not even a pandemic could stop the Hampton Township community from turning out for the Hampton Alliance for Educational Excellence's 28th Annual 5K Race. The race ran a little differently this year – it was more about community than competition, and runners and walkers participated in socially distant safety in their own neighborhoods. But the same community and school spirit was on full display.

The Talbot mascot and local celebrities rode a township fire truck through the suburbs. One neighborhood brought in food trucks. About 550 people, including 108 teachers and staff members, ran or walked. Poff Elementary held on to the Alliance Cup for having the highest building-wide participation rate. And more than $30,000 was raised to fund grants for innovative education projects and scholarships within the District’s five schools.

“We had a full slate of walkers and runners who all had a wonderful time, and our supportive business community came through with generous sponsorships and raffle items,” said HAEE President Mauraen Perkins. “COVID-19 did not dampen the Hampton spirit!”

The race is fun, District principals say, but with HAEE in the District, students win every day.

“HAEE is an amazing organization committed to funding unique learning opportunities for our students, namely ones that promote creativity and innovation,” said Hampton Middle School Principal Dr. Marlynn Lux. Poff Elementary Principal Dr. Colleen Hannagan agreed. “HAEE allows us to do things we would not otherwise be able to do.”

Just knowing HAEE exists encourages more innovative thinking among teachers and principals,” said Central Elementary Principal Dr. Amy Kern. “It keeps us always thinking about what we could do that would be great for our kids, because we know this organization is there to support our efforts.”

HAEE Grants Enrich Education District-Wide

In the last five years, HAEE has awarded more than $200,000 in grants and $20,500 in scholarships to 17 outstanding graduating seniors.

At Hampton Middle School, HAEE provided funding for the Innovation Studio, a large classroom that can hold up to two classes at once. The Innovation Studio is furnished with flexible furniture, SMART TVs, and many white boards to support brainstorming. “Teachers often sign out this space to support project-based learning units and cooperative learning. The space promotes collaboration and creativity,” Lux said.

HMS has recently received an HAEE grant that will turn what was a terrarium into a Learning Pavilion. Designed collaboratively by HMS teachers in partnership with Carnegie Mellon University and The Children’s Museum of Pittsburgh, the Pavilion will use technology – including augmented reality – to enhance learning.

At Hampton High School, HAEE funds have purchased laser engravers and a computer numeric control router. A grant at the end of last school year funded a DNA analysis tool for the biology department. “It’s something like you would see in CSI New York,” Perkins said. “It was not in the District budget, but it makes learning a more hands-on experience.”

At Central Elementary, HAEE money helped turn two courtyards into in-demand outdoor STEM classrooms whose features dovetail with the curriculum.

At Poff, HAEE paid for an indoor garden tower which allows students to grow spinach, lettuce, and cucumbers with hydroponics. They learn about the health benefits with health and physical education teacher Mrs. Paige Serbin and the plants also demonstrate lessons learned about plant growth. The students harvest the vegetables themselves, and every third-grader gets to take about a salad’s worth home.

Additionally, Dr. Hannagan worked with music teachers from all three elementary schools to write a grant for Orff musical instruments, which was awarded last year. “I can’t wait to show off new HAEE-funded projects,” Superintendent Michael R. Lougheed said at a recent School Board meeting. “The kind of opportunities provided by HAEE are what make Hampton a cutting-edge District.”

Love Hampton Students and Teachers? Join HAEE!

Those who want the opportunity to help create exceptional and innovative educational opportunities could become an HAEE volunteer board member. Seats are available now, and those interested should email Perkins at president@hamptonalliance.org.

“We need people who have a passion for public education and want to support our schools and students,” Perkins said. “We need board members with many different skills – event planning, fundraising, social media, public relations. We need members who network, and who already have business networks.”

“We love the race, but there’s so much more to HAEE than the race,” Perkins said. “The race is what we do so we can do all of these other things, so we can make a difference for the kids and our schools.”

The Hues & Harmony Virtual Reality Tour

Hundreds of artworks created by Hampton students were curated into what would have been an in-person exhibit this past spring had COVID-19 not intervened. Luckily, the Art teachers and Director of Technology, Dr. Edward McKaveney, found a creative and COVID-safe way to showcase students’ creativity through a virtual reality tour that can be enjoyed anytime and anywhere with an internet connection.

Many of the works speak to the show’s theme, “2020: Vision Revision Envision.” This theme is echoed in the work of high school students whose drawings stemmed from careful observations and multiple revisions; middle school students who carved organic and geometric designs into blocks for printmaking; and elementary students who drew cityscapes based on their vision of the future.

Special thanks to our student artists; District art teachers Dan Franklin, Kate Owens, Lisa Woods, Elizabeth Howe, and Ted Brucker; long-term sub Andrea Spangler; and videographer and District Director of Technology Dr. Edward McKaveney.

New Guest Substitute Teacher Program Uses Local Talent

The Hampton Township School District has launched a new Guest Substitute Teacher Program that will help fill the need for more substitute teachers. Local residents who have at least a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university are encouraged to apply to make a positive difference at Hampton.

“The new program is very exciting for the District,” said HTSD Assistant Superintendent Dr. Rebecca Cunningham. “We have an excellent community, and are very pleased with the number of residents who have signed up to find out more about this initiative.”

The first group of HTSD Guest Substitute Teacher candidates attended an Information Session in October, a Training Session in November, and are busy fulfilling additional requirements for the program. After they have completed their training and have been certified, they can be called when a teacher vacancy remains after the District has utilized its building substitutes and its list of day-to-day state certified substitutes.

The Guest Substitute Teacher positions are very flexible as guest substitutes can decide to work on days which are convenient for them. They will receive $90 per day for the first 20 days of substitute work and $100 per day thereafter. More importantly, Guest Substitute Teachers can make a positive difference in Hampton schools.

Anyone interested in the next training session should contact Dr. Cunningham at cunningham@ht-sd.org or (412) 492-6305.
HTSD Receives Grants

HTSD Receives $30,000 Grant to Provide Work Preparation or Experience for Students with Disabilities

The Hampton Township School District has won a 2020-2021 Competitive Integrated Employment Grant to help prepare students with disabilities for careers. The grant was awarded through the Pennsylvania Department of Education’s Bureau of Special Education in coordination with the Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network.

These competitive grants were awarded to 20 local education agencies across Pennsylvania. Winners were chosen based on high-quality program development goals focused on the areas of career development programming efforts, addressing existing program gaps, and developing meaningful relationships between parent, school district, community, and agency partners.

The District will partner with local businesses and collaborate with social service agencies.

Hampton Receives $400,000 Grant for High School Roof Repairs; Board Thanks Representative Lori Mitzgorski

The Hampton Township School District received a $400,000 grant from the Gaming Economic Development Tourism Fund (GEDTF) through the Redevelopment Authority of Allegheny County and the Commonwealth Financing Authority. This grant will help cover the costs of necessary roof repairs at Hampton High School.

Hampton High School Keeps Blood Drive Alive

Donating blood is a tradition at Hampton High School, which is nearly always among the top 20 donation sites in Western Pennsylvania.

In a typical school year, students, faculty, staff, and community members head to the high school gym for fall, winter, and spring blood drives that usually attract between 100 and 150 donors each session. Last spring’s session was canceled due to COVID, which made Rotary Interact Students and High School Nurse Melanie Haynes, the blood drive coordinator, more determined than ever to have a successful fall blood drive while keeping everyone safe. The virtual blood drive was born!

Instead of heading to the school gym, donors made an appointment at any of Vitalant’s donor centers between October 18 and November 1. The Hampton donors provided a code that allowed all donations to count toward the school total. The Vitalant centers followed appropriate COVID mitigation guidelines.

As always, students advertised and promoted the drive. In more typical times, they also register donors and distribute post-donation snacks.

Students who participate earn community service hours and are also eligible for a scholarship. “It’s a good cause, and it encourages leadership,” Dr. Haynes said.

Asked why she participates in the blood drive, Senior Bridget Laffin said she participates in the blood drive “because there’s a need for blood donation. I want to help out because I have the ability to.”
